eeap with new output deals in Central and Eastern Europe

Berlin, December 7th, 2006

EEAP (Eastern European Acquisition Pool) one of the leading film licensing companies specialized on Central and Eastern Europe, realized two important TV-deals in Central and Eastern Europe.

EEAP is a film distribution network in the Baltic States, Poland, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Slovenia, Croatia, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Yugoslavia, Macedonia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Ukraine, Russia and all CIS States.

Bulgarian channel TV7 just signed a volume deal committing itself to purchase a certain yearly amount of movies from EEAP. TV 7 has ambitious plans with its young program in the extremely fragmented Bulgarian TV landscape. The channel reaches currently 6% market share based on a 80% coverage in Bulgarian cable TV homes.

Furthermore, Hungarian TV2 signed an output deal with EEAP. Its Programming Director Loránd Poich and EEAP-Managing Director Alexander van Dülmen are looking forward to continue their already existing close cooperation under fixed general terms.

Current highlights of EEAP are among others: „Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles“, „Babel“, „Knallhart“ and Quentin Tarantino’s new project „Grindhouse“.
