

Pia Littmann named EEAP head of acquisitions

Berlin-based licensing group East European Acquisition Pool

By Scott Roxborough

June 24, 2009, 07:42 AM ET

COLOGNE, Germany -- Pia Littmann, a former acquisitions exec at Tobis Film, has joined Berlin-based licensing group East European Acquisition Pool (EEAP) as the new head of acquisitions. Littmann replaces Karina Korenblum, who will resign from EEAP at the end of the month.

EEAP, a subsidiary of Alexander von Dulmen's A Company, specializes in licensing feature films for Eastern European territories. The group recently signed a three-year pay TV deal with HBO licensing titles such as "The Reader" and "The Brothers Bloom" for Hungary, Slovakia, the Czech Republic, Bulgaria and the former Yugoslavia.